High-value products are rarely sold in the first conversation.

They're sold on the third, fourth or fifth follow-up.

Swipe for the breakdown →

01

Day 1: a short summary of the talk, plus answers to their questions

02

Day 3: one useful new piece of info, like a past project or a common question

03

Day 7: politely ask if anything is stopping the decision

04

Day 14: a short, no-pressure check-in

05

After that: move them to a monthly nurture list

“

A good follow-up feels like service, not pressure.

How many times do you follow up before you stop?

Want me to review your lead flow?

Comment AUDIT or send a DM. The audit is free.